

44th Annual Motorama Shines Bright in North Haledon

Photos and story by John McCartney

On a picture perfect day Sunday, May 26th over Memorial Day Weekend the 44th Annual Motorama packed The High Mountain School complex. No matter what type of car you wanted to check out you could find it here on display. All cars and trucks 1994 and older were welcome to take part at the event. The featured cars for this year's event were the El Caminos which along with pick up trucks 94 and older, had their own special parking area at this year's event.

Whether you were into the classic muscle cars, hot rods, customs, or those special one of kind cars you could check it out here. There were awesome antique cars as well. Rows and rows of really great cars and trucks that filled every square inch of the rolling fields of the High Mountain School complex located in North Haledon, New Jersey.

In addition to all the great cars on display there was a giant automotive style flea market where folks could look to pick up that special part or piece that one needs to finish that project. For all the kids that came out with their parents there was some special items to get the youngsters even more interested in the car culture scene. Over at the trophy table the little kids could stop by and pick up some cool Chevy cookies and a great automotive style coloring book and crayons to fuel their future interest in cars. Throughout the day door prizes of all sorts were given away to all that had a car in the car show.

Trophies were given out at the end of the show to those special cars that stood out above all the others. This show benefits both the Make-A-Wish Foundation of New Jersey and the Wounded Warriors Project very fitting on the Memorial Day weekend.
